New Bedford High School

New Bedford, MA 02740

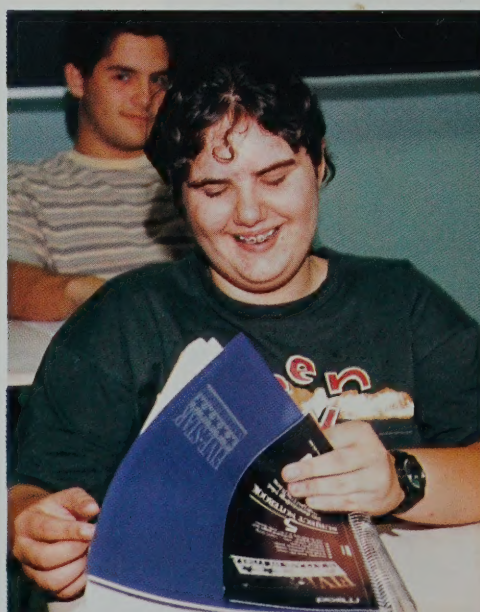

Four years ago, we approached the doors as freshmen, and were welcomed with open arms . . . but as time went on we were told that we must earn keys to pass to the next level . . . and to think we just thought it was only a report card!

Each year we learned what to do to get the key. We've learned the key to teamwork through our participation in activities and sports and now understand the key to success, after four years of hard work, dedication, and sacrifice.

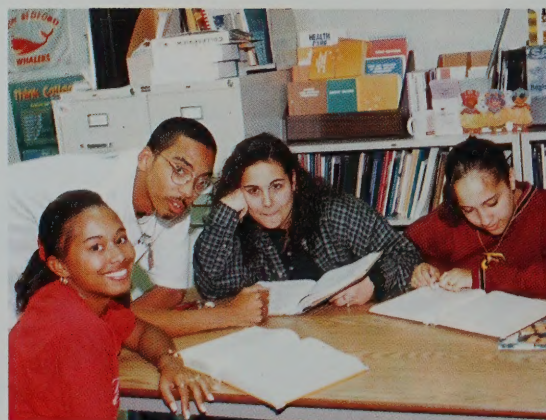

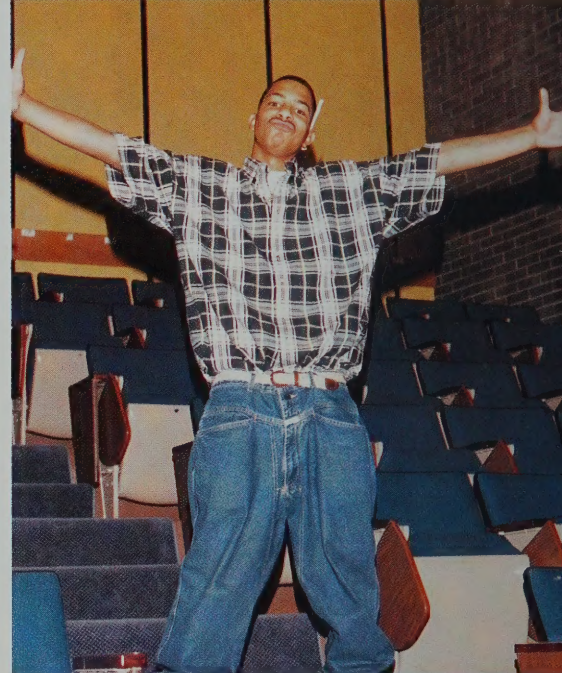

I t's been a long winding road, but together we survived

And now as we come to the final locked door, we may hesitate to open it, but we must put our fears aside and reach for the unknown.

We've struggled with obstacles and overcome them. A wise woman once said, "The young do not know enough to be prudent and therefore they attempt the impossible and achieve it generation after generation."

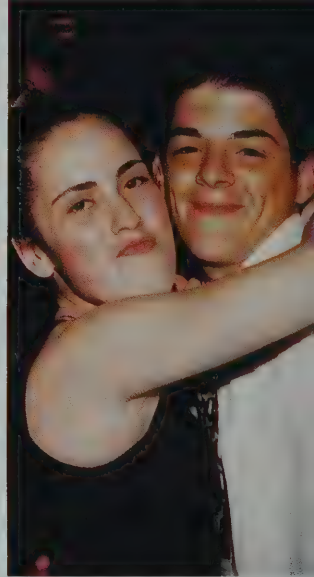

So as we approach those doors with the keys we've earned, we may hold back, but we know we have been well prepared for whatever awaits us on the other side.

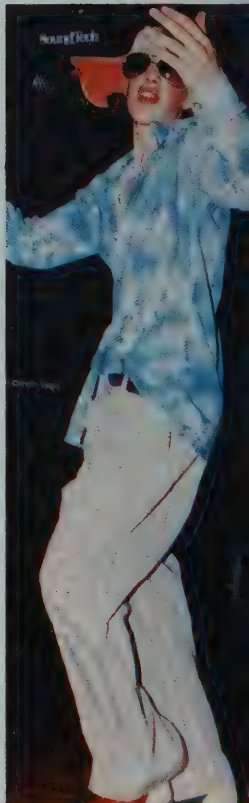

Junior Banquet . . .

Key to New Experiences.

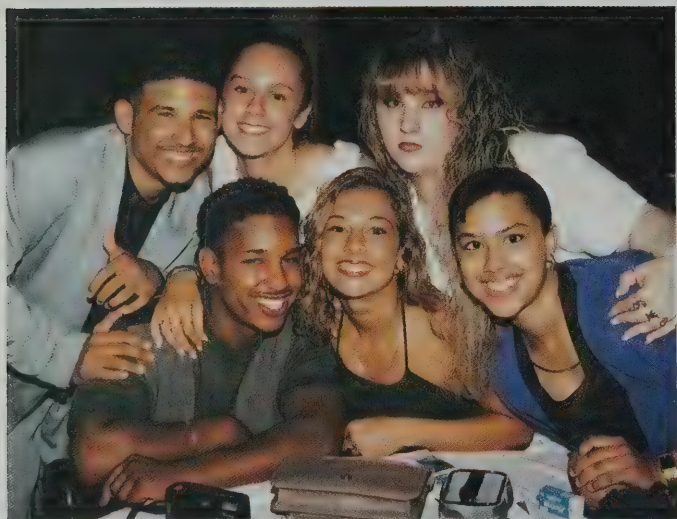

I got all the game!

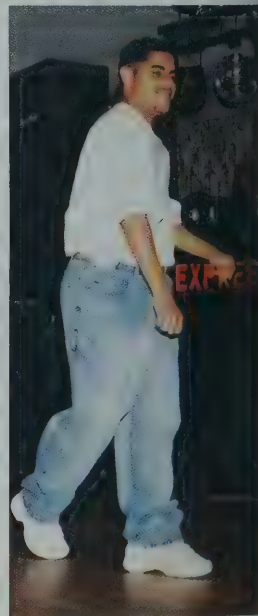

The most hardworking class advisors take time out of their busy schedules to smile for the camera. (Below) Raven gives some inspirational words to the new senior class.

Have you
more beautiful
smiles
than this?

CLASS OF 1997

RULES

Senior Assembly

In October, we joined our fellow Seniors in our first Assembly. After three years of waiting to be the leaders of the school, we were up for the challenge before us — to lead, and to lead well. Our class officers, Raven, Nic, & Wendy prepared us for what was ahead. Mr. Oliver and Ms. Purcell informed us of their expectations for us as a class. Our exchange student, Nam-Fon, who stayed in the home of senior Erin Fernandes, introduced herself to her new classmates. Heidi Carreiro, our yearbook editor, announced our class theme. With this over, we stood ready to open the door to our senior year.

Seniors

are the keys to the future

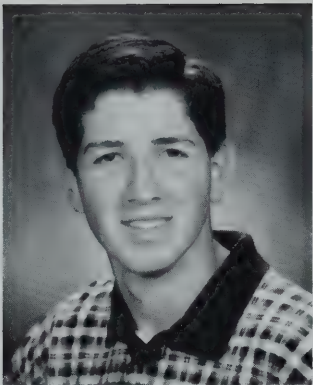

We've been together for what seems like an eternity sharing the experiences of a lifetime, our education. Now we all will go our separate ways with each of us holding our own keys to the future, our dreams, our hopes and our goals. Each and every one of us has the ability to unlock the doors to a successful future!

Parenting Teens: Unlocking the doors to new beginnings.

The parenting teen program, under the direction of Mary E. Stellato, allows teenage moms to receive the education, social, and life skill support they need to achieve a brighter future for themselves and their children. The program opens doors of opportunity that would be otherwise closed to these young women if they were unable to complete their education. These young women realize the challenges before them, but acknowledge that education is, in fact, the key to future achievements, and hope to pass this lesson on to their children by example.

Sports

are a key to developing good character

A strong athletic program not only develops bodies but also goes a long way to developing strong minds and characters. NBHS has long maintained a tradition of excellence in this area, emphasizing both physical skill and honorable sportsmanship. Our NBH athletes dominated the competition in all fields of play. 1997 has been a year of both team and individual achievements and we salute all those who have contributed to making this athletic year memorable.

WHALER BOYS GO THE EXTRA MILE

Cross Country

Coach Steve Gardiner

The Whalers surprised many with an outstanding season, culminating the year with a record of 8-1. Led by a close-knit group of seniors including veteran runners Mike McCoy, Geoff Paine, and Steve Rebelo, the Whalers had a great season. The boys used their desire, determination, and pride to push themselves past the competition. This team was determined, as the season progressed, to embody coach Steve Gardiner's words and "Make success a journey not a destination." The disappointment of the one loss at Brockton showed just how much the boys cared about their season. But perhaps the most obvious strength of the boys' season was that the team always worked as a whole from seniors Craig Dixon and David Luckraft to juniors Hilario Machado, Matt Gilbert, Jon Yoken, and freshman Paul Machado, making the team not only talented but deep.

first year runner, and senior embodied the team spirit.

In the South Sectional finals, he was in the lead with just 300 yards to go and somehow he fell. In the true spirit of the team he did not quit, but finished a strong ninth place.

The other instance should just how well these runners had been taught that the point of competing is not just to win but to embody the spirit of competition. In a regular season meet Richie Rogers was alone with the top runner from the rival school when the other runner fell. Rogers hesitated, stopped, and helped the runner to his feet after which he continued to run and in the end win showing the true Whaler spirit. With this instilled in all the runners next year is insured to be a great season.

In two shining instances, Rich Rogers, an outstanding

Running Strong

The New Bedford High School Girls' Cross Country Team completed their season with a record of 5 wins and 4 losses. The season was an overall successful one, with impressive victories over Bridgewater-Raynham, Plymouth South, Dartmouth, Quincy, and Nauset.

The top runners for the Whalers were returning seniors, Elise Tetreault and Romy Cruz. Along with juniors, Julie Costa and Heidi Costa, and sophomore, Jaclyn Ventura. Fellow seniors Beth Carr and Lindsay Rapoza added to the solid support.

Julie Costa recorded the 9th best time by a female Whaler runner on Buttonwood Park's 2.85 mile course with a time of 18:25. Julie who was the versatile runner, will be a threat to some of the opposing teams next year. The team will be looking forward to her return along with Jaclyn Ventura who finished at the top for the Whalers at the Eastern Mass Division 1 Championship.

The girls wrapped up their season by taking 3rd place at the Big Three Meet and finished 21st at the Eastern Mass Division 1 Championship. The team owes some of its success to the excellent coaching staff consisting of head coach Steve Gardiner and assistant coaches, Jim Mandy and Mike Pires.

PUSHING TOWARDS THEIR GOALS: BIG 3 CHAMPS

FIELD HOCKEY

Coach Ron Vaz

Despite what it may look like to outsiders, the Whaler Field Hockey team's season was a monumental leap forward. The girls compiled a 3-7-7 record behind the leadership of senior captains Erin Tiernan and Kyana Gordon. As the season began, the goals of the team were modest but the girls pursued them with the utmost dedication, hardwork, and sheer determination.

The two main goals of this year's hockey team were to win the BIG 3 championship and to reach the state tournament. The girls came to terms with their first obstacle after tying Durfee 0-0 late in September. Within a week, these two rivals again went head to head and, this time, the Whalers came out on top with a 1-0 victory on a goal scored by Angie Carr. This win gave the Whalers their first BIG 3 Championship in 4 years.

As the season continued, the girls continued to prepare for their tough schedule. The games were always kept close by senior goal keeper, Monica Viegas, and defensive sweepers, Beth Estrella and Erin Tiernan. This showed to be true in the Whalers' second contest against Dartmouth, where, despite the outstanding play of defensive backs, Jess Frates, Katie Hebert, Paula Koczera, and goalie, Monica Viegas, who faced 42 shots on goal. The girls suffered 2-0 loss.

In the Whalers' most outstanding game of the season the Whaler girls turned it up and Forwards, Amy Kruger, Cara Telesmanick, and midfielder, Sarah Lunny, kept the pressure on the Falmouth defense. With some strong defensive play in this game as well as throughout the season, by Erin Gordon and "Beeb" Braley, a powerful Falmouth team was held scoreless.

The girls sadly never reached their second goal and failed to make the tournament by five points. The girls left the field with their heads held high knowing exactly how much they accomplished this year, no matter what their critics may say.

Playing in the Shadows

With low expectations coming into the season the boys team proved many wrong by compiling a record of 5-4-1 under the leadership of captains Heath Huston and Manny Ortiz and quarterback Angelo DeBortoli. Despite starting slowly the boys team gained strength from the play of James Currin, Nic Charest, Luis Sanchez, Jamie Rodriques, Christian Farland, and Tony Boucher. Their first win of the season came in their third game versus Boston College High in which seniors Jeff Giammalvo, Nelson Riveira, Ibn Bilal Khalid, Wayne Hathaway, and Aaron Santos all did their part. From this win the boys went on to win four in a row and surprise all the critics. Despite the fact that the boys had a tough schedule they fared well and topped it off for their seniors with a shining win over Durfee on Thanksgiving Day. Although seniors Peter Andrews, Derek Calheta, Chris Cardoso, Mike Khalife, Jeff Mello, and Jeremy Santos will be missed, the underclassmen including Yusef White, Dante Balestracci, John Seed, and Tim Walsh will be sure that the Whaler football team will always be proud of this school.

Driving the Green

Continuing their strong showing of last season, the Whalers proved to be a team with youth as well as depth. They forced their record to 10 and 7 with a late season charge in the win column. With a team led by consistency and the talented trio of senior and team co-captain Ben Rubin, senior Jay Reedy, and junior co-captain Jim McGlynn, as the Whalers geared up to take on all challengers. The low round of the season belonged to Ben Rubin firing a one under par 35 which was a career round for the seniors.

The Whalers struggled in the early going but when Big-three rivals came along the Whalers rose to the challenge bringing their brooms along for the ride sweeping up the Big-three with a 4 and 0 record, qualifying them for the state sectionals. With an unsuccessful bid to advance to the state finals, the Whalers bowed out with their heads held high on a second successful season in as many years.

The Whalers will be back with a vengeance next season losing three to graduation, Ben Rubin, Jay Reedy, and Jeff Chevalier; but returning a strong unit of experienced players. Juniors Jim McGlynn, Mike Daniels, Nate Machado and Andrew Nelson will be backed up by sophomores Kevin Borges, Eric Nobrega and freshman Jason Daniels. With a team of young guns and plenty of fire power the Whalers will hope to tear up courses all over the state and continue their years of success.

NBHS: That's the Way We Spell Success.

This year's boys soccer team continued their annual success and from a team that yielded two EMass all-stars: Tri-captain Luke Glicksman, a defenseman, and midfielder Paul Macaraco. Along with Glicksman captains, Jeff Bothelo, and Eric DaCosta led the team to not only a 4 and 0 record and in turn Big 3 championship South Sectional Finals. The Whalers strong offense led by Bothelo, Macaraco, Danny Almeida, Clint Huston, Rui Almeida, Arly Noel, and Charlie Beckman was ranked not only statewide but regionally and even nationally. But as the offense was scoring goals, the defense, led by goalies Tommy Martins and Chris Fernandes, defensemen, Glicksman, DaCosta, and Adam Soares, was stopping them. This team saw coach Matos' 300th victory come in a 4-3 win over rival Brockton. The boys continued their strong play well into the tournament and made it to the South Sectional Finals before losing to the powerful Weymouth team, the only team to beat the boys twice during the season.

Paul Macaraco was named Standard Time All-Star player of the year along with being named EMass All-Star with Luke Glicksman. The other all-stars included Tommy Martins, Jeff Bothelo, Adam Soares, Eric DaCosta, Roy Aroujo, Arly Noel, and Mike Mederios. With a strong group of returning underclassmen next year's team will be sure to carry on the winning tradition of the N.B.H.S. boys soccer team.

Put on the Defensive . . .

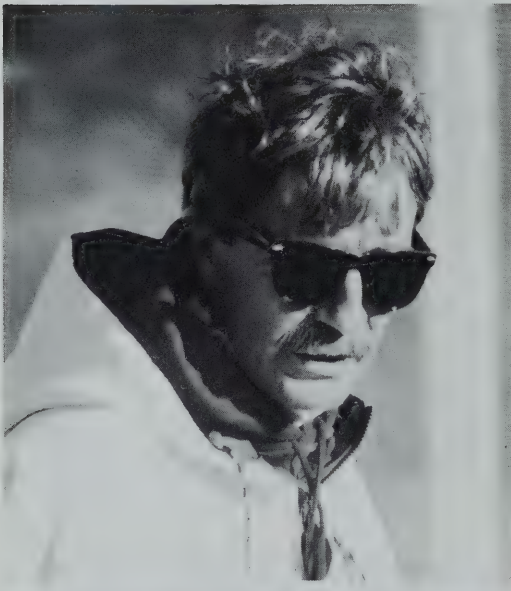

Once again our girls find themselves defending this year's soccer season. There is no need, however, since NB did an outstanding job, with one of the toughest schedules in the state. Although it wasn't always apparent to the spectators, the Whalers had a wonderful season. It was one in which friendships and memories were made that the seniors will never forget.

Led by EMASS All-Star and Quad-Captain Beth Matos, this year's team did well against some of the powerhouses of state soccer. Despite having one of the toughest schedules in the state, NB never lost its determination or got down on themselves. With Coach Gill's inspiration, the girls always kept their heads up and gave 100% to every game. The defense was constantly pounded by the hard-hitting teams. They withstood the pressure however, with senior and Quad-Captain Michelle Lopes as the driving force behind them. Senior stoppers Brandi LaFrance and Wendy Brassard stood strong on defense and were always there to step up on the offensive attack. Defenders Sue Perreira, Kristen Azevedo, Erica Healy, and Carmen Amaral also provided the NBHS defense with their solid support. Kelly DeBarros and Lee Ann Colangelo did well at their positions.

Junior goalie Tracy Forand did an outstanding job in net making some outstanding saves and saving some important games.

Returning juniors Debbie Souza and Anne Connolly will be looked to next year and should provide for a great season.

MAKING A SPLASH

When it comes to swimming these girls have talents which have been proven over and over again. They sprinted and dove their way to an impressive 10-2 record. With senior captains Antonia Cardoza, "the distance specialist," Karen Fahy, "the speedy sprinter," and Liz DeLacy, "the dazzling diver," leading the way, the Whalers were on their way to breaking their own records and more.

The Lady Whalers captured yet another big-three conference championship, making Coach Cury proud. With hard work and dedication these girls proved to be among the best in the state. With the seniors departing this year a hand full of juniors will lead this team back to the battle in the pool. They will have to fill the shoes of not only their captains but also of the breaststrokers Liz Kalife, and Christine Bedard, distance swimmers Kelley Sullivan and Cathy Lafrance, and butterfly swimmer Kate Parker.

No Diggity . . . No Doubt!

The lady Whalers had another remarkable season at, 18-5, in the winning Whaler tradition. Senior captains, Raven Pina and Christina Ackah set the pace for the season early in the years. But the season soon became a cross town rivalry between New Bedford and Dartmouth. In the first of these three games, seniors Tiffany Goodine, Rebecca Nicol, Samantha Lowe, Pina, Ackah, along with help from Marcie Letendre and Kristen Jackson, stepped up to the challenge and won in two games. The next two games against Dartmouth would prove not to be so easy. Near the end of their season the girls came up against Dartmouth again and despite strong play from Beth Mangini, Pina, and Ackah, the girls were handed a grueling loss. But despite this, the girls ended their regular season with a record of 16-4, and entered the tournament with a perfect record in the Big Three, which would soon become a factor in the girls' season. Their first tournament match was against Durfee, the girls responded by beating Durfee in a long and tough five game match. After dispatching their next opponent, J.B. O'Bryant, the girls were set to play Dartmouth again, this time in the tournament. Despite an outstanding game by all the players, the girls lost this marathon match in five games. Even though they were defeated, they should hold their heads high and know that their season was an overall success and that a strong base of underclassmen will return and carry on their tradition of excellence next year.

Stealing the Show

The New Bedford Whalers entered their season playing the toughest schedule in school history and still managed to come out on top. Under the leadership of Coach Eddie Rodrigues, the team finished with a record of 14 and 6, qualifying them for the State tournament.

As the captain of the team, Senior Marques Houtman established himself as the team's leading scorer averaging 24 points a game and being chosen as a Big Three All-Star. Along with Marques great efforts, other senior contributors were Eric Taylor and John Fernandes. Eric Taylor was the 6th man and his positive attitude and encouragement sparked the team with his all out hustle. John Fernandes, an outstanding shooter, helped the Whalers win many crucial games with a big shot when it came down to the wire.

Other key players included Juniors, Sam Ackah and Johnny Seed. Sam was the team's starting center and had great rebounding skills. Johnny came off the bench with much enthusiasm and he became known for his buzzer beating 3 point shots. Isaiah Houtman, a sophomore started in the forward position and displayed outstanding quickness and jumping ability. Another asset to the Whalers was freshman Dante Balestracci. Dante had an enormous impact during the season after moving up from jayvee, showing both his excellent skills in shooting and rebounding.

The Whalers' basketball team was the Big Three Champions and other regular season big wins included defeats over Brockton, Durfee, Cambridge, Holyoke, Taunton, and Bishop Hendricken. In the words of Coach Eddie Rodrigues, "They were a fun team to coach. They had an excellent attitude and played hard every game."

"BROCKTON JINX" Broken

Basketball

Coach Bob Foster

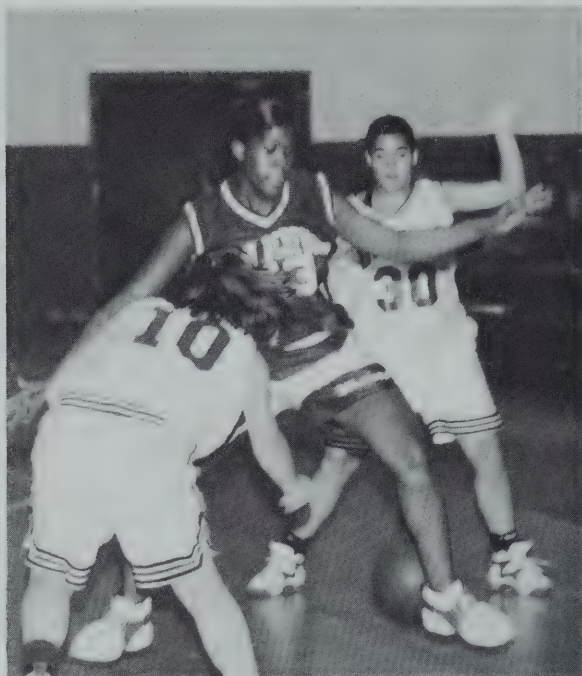

The Whalers came into the season with only the hopes of winning a Big 3 Championship. Not only did the Whalers end the "Brockton Jinx," but they also went undefeated in Conference play, finishing 4-0. In doing so, the Whalers won their first ever Big 3 Crown.

Senior Co-Captains, Tiffany Goodline and Christina Ackah, led the Whalers to an impressive 15-5 regular season. Goodline was the Whalers' "Go-to" player. She is a 6'0" forward who broke the school's all-time rebounding record. She is the current "queen of boards" with a career 525 rebounds. Ackah, also in the front court, is a 5'10" four-year starter. She is known for her aggressiveness on the boards and toughness on defense.

Also in the front court are 6'4" senior, Elizabeth Mangini, 5'8" junior, Kristen Jackson, and Shiana Rose, also 5'8". 5'3" junior, Debbie Sousa, returned to the point guard position. She often helped in pacing the Whaler offense along with making key defensive plays. Rebecca Rodrigues, a 5'5" freshman, started as the Whalers' #2 guard and quickly established herself as a 3-point shooter. Anne Connolly, a 5'7" junior and returning letterman, was noted for her ferocious defense. Other Whaler contributors include 5'2" freshman, Lauren Phaneuf, and 5'6" sophomore, Kelly Proulx. Both came up big from the outside. Other seniors include 5'7" Raven Pina, who was forced to sit-out the season due to a knee-injury.

The Whalers finished the season on a positive note, winning the Big 3 Pilgrim Conference Challenge, by first defeating Silver Lake and then by defeating Whitman-Hanson. Throughout the season the Whaler team was a perfect balance of solid shooting and pressure defense.

Flippin' Out

This year the Girls Gymnastics Team was challenged by many difficult opponents. But in a sport that requires the utmost concentration and dedication, along with balance and grace, the Whalers proved themselves to be very strong competitors. Although the team finished with a record of 3-7, they still displayed much effort and skill.

Liz deLacy and Christine Bedard were the team's two co-captains and their leadership skills and experience from previous years enabled them to guide the younger team members toward success. Liz deLacy competed in the floor exercise, beam, and vault, her strongest event in which she achieved a team high score of 7-7. Christine Bedard also contributed to the team with very many strong performances in the vault, beam, and uneven bars.

Other key members of the gymnastics team were senior, Sarah Metthe, and junior, Kristen Carter. Sarah was an all around competitor and established her personal best score, 28.0, against Attleboro. Kristen Carter was also an extremely important factor as the team's most consistent performer. She led the way for the Whalers, providing them with many first and second place finishes in the floor exercise and on the balance beam.

Fire On Ice

Coming into the season with new coaches, a new transfer student, and a first year goalie the Whalers didn't know what to expect. What came out was a very good 13-5-2 team who qualified for the state tournament for the fifth straight year, won the Big Three for the fourth time in five years, and who has a coach who is proud of every single player.

The coach will tell you this is the seniors' team but all the guys say it's everyone's team, just following the leadership of the seniors and team captain Jay Caldas. Seniors Josh Andrade, Nick Crowley, Jay Reedy, Mike Simmons, and Paul Simoes led the team while the top scorers, both juniors, are Derek Medeiros and transfer student, Shane Relihan — both who will be back next year. Senior, Jay Caldas, sophomore Ryan Medeiros, and senior Mike Simmons also added their hand in scoring. In goal, as the last line of defense, Brad Stalter in his first season made some spectators cringe, but as the starter proved himself as the area's best goalie he ended the season with 1.94 goals against average and a .904 save percentage.

They're Going the Distance

The Whalers this season, once again, proved to the school and themselves that they still have it. Although the Whalers did not come in first at the South Sectional, they gave it their all during the season. They repeatedly fought for every finish and each personal best. There awaits a strong team of the future for this year's team featured many upcoming underclassmen such as sophomore Dan Marshall, Shawn Harding, Keith Fahy, and Nick Hebert. Dan and Nick were joined with Seniors Bryan Lawless and Manny Ortiz in the 200 relay, and consistently posted solid scores for the Whalers. Junior Mike McCarthy was another big contributor to the success of the season. The key swimmers this season were tri-captains Bryan Lawless, Manny Ortiz, and John Araujo. Bryan's strongest points of the season were in the 100m breaststroke and 100m butterfly, competing technically perfect and well above his former mark. Manny swept away the competition in the butterfly, while John Araujo once again established himself as one of the top divers in the state. Other contributors to the season were Seniors Jeff Chevalier, Chris Guay, Tim Kruger, Danny Charbonneau, Aaron Demello, and Robert Bergeron. Congratulations need not be given. Coach Curry and next year's team will thrive because of the progress and leadership shown by this years' departing seniors.

Indoor Track

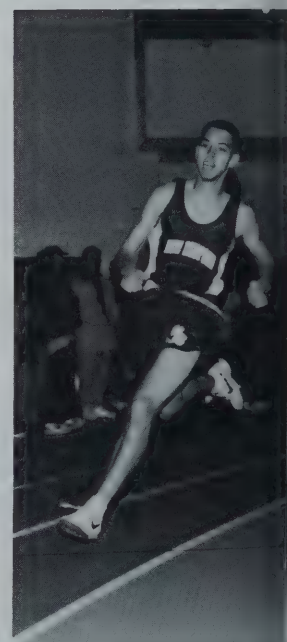

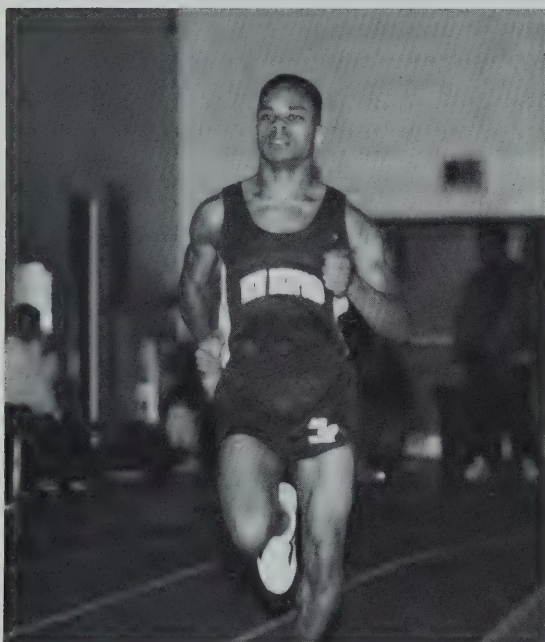

Coach Tom Giasson

This year's boys' track team compiled a record of 6-3 behind the leadership of Senior co-captains Rich Rogers and Nelson Rivera. Rogers, who established himself as a nationally ranked runner by posting the second best time by a high school male in the 600, ran every event ranging from the 50-yd dash to the 2-mile. In the 300, he faced stiff competition from his own teammate — Junior, Yusef White, who will surely be one of the leaders of next year's team. Rivera, along with fellow Senior, Steve Rebelo, often finished strong against competition in the 600. Seniors Mike Khalife, PJ Andrews and Fouad Malouf were leaders in the sprints. Leading the distance events were Seniors Craig Dixon, Steve Seney, and Junior, Clint Huston.

In the hurdles, Mr. Whaler, Justin Bates, showed that despite his inexperience he was well prepared and qualified for states early in the season. In several meets, Rivera had much pressure placed on his shoulders to place in the high jump as our school's only representative in that event. Sophomore Gil Marques led the way in the shot put. The 4X400 of White, Rivera, Rebelo, and Rogers proved to be one of the fastest in the state.

Next year's team is sure to be successful due to the return of White, Huston, and Freshman sprinter, DJ Wilde.

“Putting” it all together

This years' Girls Indoor Track team compiled a 7-2 record and fared well all season. Despite suffering two close losses to Brockton and Dennis-Yarmouth, the girls team came up big against powerhouse teams such as Scituate and Dartmouth. The girls' team was headed by tri-captains Beth Carr, Leeann Colangelo, and Elise Tetreault who brought strength, humor, and perserverence. Senior shot-putters Rebecca Nicol, Jessica Braley, and Paula Koczera led the way for the field events, frequently sweeping the competition and doing exceptionally well at the Relays in January. On the hurdles, Seniors Colangelo and Erica Healy were consistent 1-2 finishers while Tetreault and Beth Matos led the way for the distance events with the help of Julie Costa and Beth Estrella. Freshman sprinting standout Chanté Soares, Junior Anne Hamel, Estrella, Julie and Heidi Costa will be sure to lead the team to success in the future.

Athletics have always been a prestigious part of the NBHS mystique and this year's teams were no disappointment to the high standards set in past years. Having been members of those championship teams as freshmen and sophomores the seniors of '97 led the way and made examples of themselves for future athletes to embody. Whether it be on the field, the court, or in the pool, Whaler athletes always bring the essence of sportsmanship to the event with the utmost class and respect.

Clubs / Activities

Keys to personal development

Though we focus on academic achievement, many of us also find the time to participate in the diverse activities and clubs NBHS offers. Students and faculty advisors devote hours often too numerous to count to these respective activities. As participants on NBHS clubs, students not only partake in that particular activity, but also increase their awareness and become active in school and community service projects. These projects and activities enrich not only the NBH students but all those who are touched through them.

A yearbook represents four years of memories — the friendships we've made, the accomplishments achieved, and the laughs we shared.

This year's yearbook staff, along with myself, achieved these qualities, making this yearbook the best one ever. For six months, we poured our hearts and souls into it, making sure every last detail was completed; we frantically ran around struggling to meet the deadlines. These are just a few of the tasks and characteristics of a typical yearbook staff. Each staff member displayed dedication, loyalty, and devotion, not only toward the yearbook, but toward each other. We worked as a team, and the hard work was definitely worth the outcome.

I would personally like to thank Ms. Borden for all the patience and guidance that she gave to me and to the staff. Thanks is also due to my editorial staff — if it weren't for them, this yearbook would not be possible. I sincerely hope you enjoy the yearbook and treasure it for many years to come.

RUMORS

The NBHS Drama Club has done it again with the delightful Neil Simon comedy "Rumors." The small cast displayed large talent in this comedy of life's disasters and the fouled communications of 3 upscale New York couples who gather to celebrate the anniversary of friends and wind up in chaos.

The entire cast showed solid comic timing and breathed life into these characters. Naomi Pappas, Adam Mahar, Stephanie Helme and Stephen Nowell brought fire and energy to their performances in the search to bring sense to the often nonsensical. Jeremy Nelson, Bill McCoy, Jackie Baszak and Renee Santos also delivered engaging performances with true comic flair.

Mr. Charbonneau and Mr. Marchand, along with cast and support crew, have once again given the NBHS family reason to smile. Bravo!

Here he is . . . Mr. Whaler '97

The lights went on and the crowd began to clear out into the lobby, programs littered the auditorium floor with a yellow hue, contestants and escorts were in the back congratulating the new Mr. Whaler 1997, Justin Bates. Mr. Whaler had come to an end but the memories had just begun.

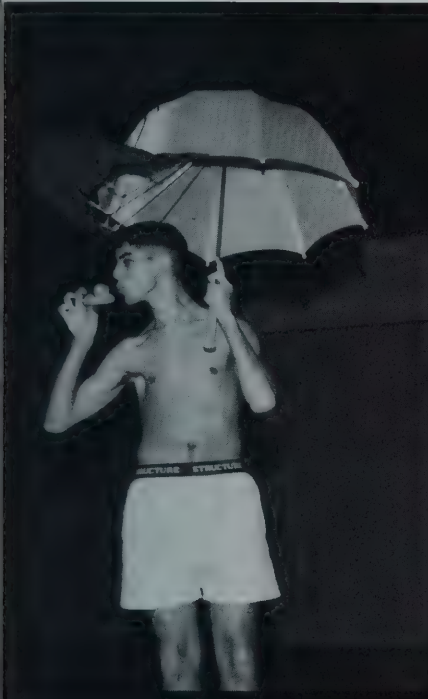

Although Mr. Whaler is put on by seniors, it attracts the entire NBHS family. Just ask the box office . . . they'll be the first to tell you how quickly the tickets were to sell out. This is a great feat, considering that the first Mr. Whaler attracted less than 200 people. Not only do the students look forward in taking part, but many faculty members get involved also. A special thanks must be sent out to Mr. Dooley and Ms. Belli, the Senior class advisors, they did an outstanding job organizing the function this year.

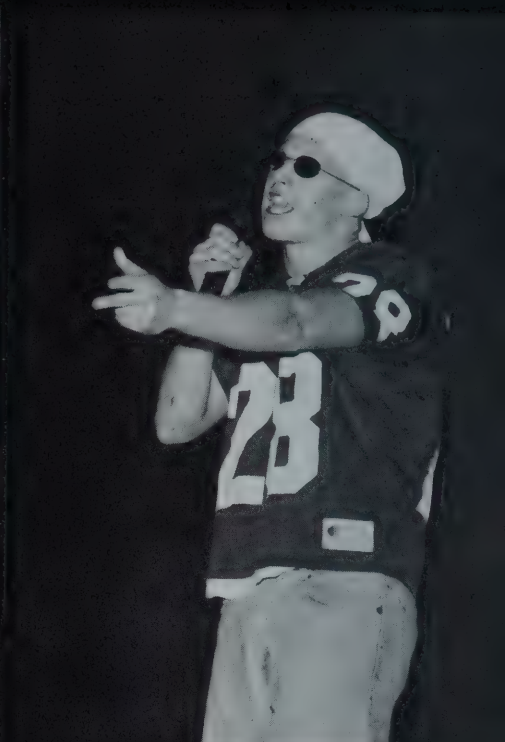

Heidi & Amy escort two of NB's finest.

"Whew! I actually made it on time!"

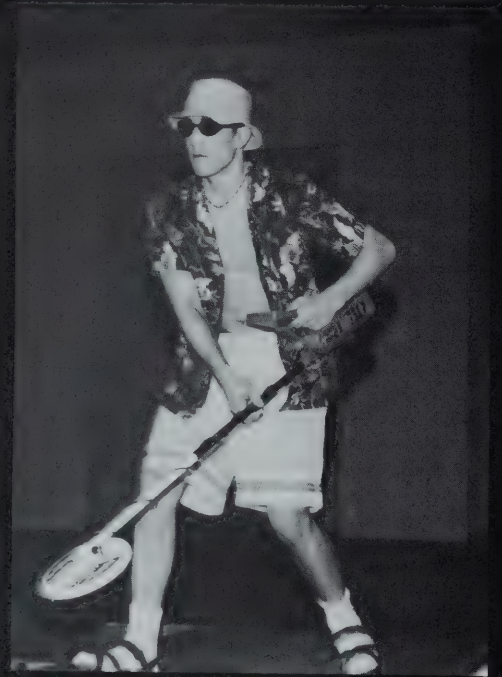

As the years roll by the contest just gets better and better. Some say it's due to experience, but I think it is due to the strong support and dedication of the students and faculty. Everyone wants to be in Mr. Whaler, and many students look forward to their Senior year so that they may have a chance to "strut their stuff" on stage. In general, the contestants and escorts have planned on entering since their freshman year, when they sat in the audience and looked on with excitement.

Mr. Whaler is an event where you get to see the goofy and serious sides of a few of NB's seniors. "Born in the USA" by Andrew Taber to a lip synched song of revenge by Aaron Santos to a tear jerking version of Paul McCartney's "Yesterday" performed by Steve Nowell. This years acts made the audience laugh and cry. Three times the audience leapt to its feet in recognition of the skill required to put on these talents. Among which, Nate Lang's drum solo showed us a side of him we had never before seen.

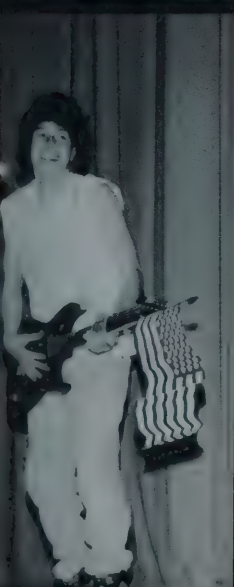

Vice President Nic Charest escorts Class Secretary Wendy Brassard.

LO! You can build me a house any day!

Many seniors agreed that taking part in Mr. Whaler has been the highlight of their year! Some kids were actually a bit upset that it was over. They'll just have to wait until next year to relive the excitement in Mr. Whaler 1998!!

The Collective Voice of the Students

This year's SAC consisted of five NBHS students all from different backgrounds. Chaired by Eric Pope and Vice Chair, Nick Jupin, these five student reps served as the voice of the students to the administration, a vital link for the success of a school as big as ours. They were our voices to the school committee and worked directly with the administration to bring about such things as student activity nights and assemblies.

For the past four years the class of '97 has had not only the three hardest working, most fun loving officers, but also the two best advisors in the school, John Dooley and Judith Belli. Along with the help of the homeroom reps this class has worked to make our stay here an enjoyable one. The officers, advisors, and reps saw all their dedication and work come to a pinnacle during Senior year. All the pieces were coming together. The presentation of Mr. Whaler, the rallies, float competitions, and the prom all stand out as Senior highpoints over our four years. With all of these experiences behind us we're prepared for whatever the world can throw at us.

The JROTC carries forth a tradition of excellence whether in competitions, parades, ROTC camps, their annual trip to Washington, D.C., security details or ceremonial duties. They serve with dignity and grace that reflects on us and sparks reflection within us. We salute the JROTC with great pride.

Marching On

You can say winning isn't everything, but after coming second at the NESBA finals, the Whalers just kept getting better. This year's musical selection was "On the Waterfront". Drum majors Kristen Fleming and Brianne Stinnett kept the tempo for the dynamic band. Also Kendra Smith and Laureen Dunaway kept the flags spinning in the air. At many competitions throughout Southeastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island the Whaler Marching Band earned many trophies. Best music, band front, and percussion were just a few of the honors the band won at the competitions. With the leadership of the drum majors, colorguard captains, and seniors, they worked hard to make it to the top. They're one of the best bands in the state of England. The section leaders Shannon St. Onge, Justine Gomes, Leah Viera, Lani Quintin, Danny Almeida, Lori Ferreira, Jesse Demelo, and Nick Forand, also put a lot of time and effort into making this year the best it could be. This band shows that hard work and dedication brings you to the top.

Whalers Salute the President

Whalers March on Washington

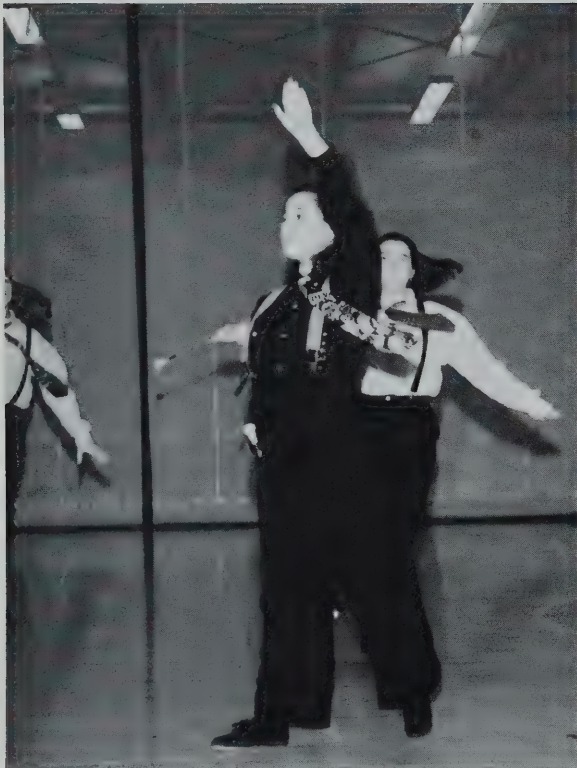

On January 20th, the New Bedford High School band participated in President Clinton's Inaugural Parade. The last time they were invited was in 1980, but due to weather conditions, the parade was cancelled. The Whalers marched by President Clinton at exactly 4:26 Eastern time. They worked extremely hard for this day to come, making sure every last detail was perfect. They brought pride and distinction to the city and people of New Bedford. We the NBHS family, salute each and every person involved in our band's proud achievement. Congratulations to all for a job well done!

Vocalizing on Key

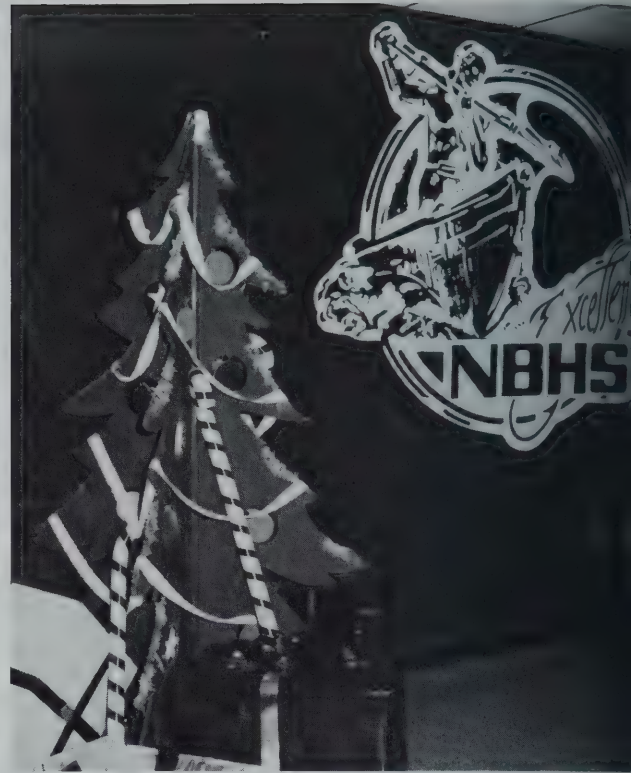

This year's choral group is an outstanding group of young performers. The Concert Chorale and Jazz Choir were chosen to attend the All-Eastern Conference in Baltimore, MD. This is an enormous achievement and honor because they are the only high school in Massachusetts invited. SATB Show Choir came home with their first Gold medal at a competition at Shepard Hill High School. In the spring they are off to competition once again at Virginia Beach. Good Luck and Congratulations to all.

Faculty / Staff

hold the keys to the future

The dedicated professionals of New Bedford High School are responsible for the excellence in education presented by the school and to its student body. NBHS has shown in the national spotlight this year as our award-winning band performed in first the Presidential Inaugural Parade and later in the Disneyworld 25th Anniversary Parade, reflecting not only the talent, but the hard work, dedication, discipline, and continual striving for excellence that makes our student body special. The faculty, staff, and administrative team engender these qualities within us in the classroom, on the stage, on the playing field, in the community, at home with family and friends, and within the world community. The efforts of these unsung heroes have provided us with the keys to unlock any doors and the tools to meet the challenges of the future.

Excellence in Education

Rising to Meet New Challenges

In his second year as headmaster of New Bedford High School, Mr. Joseph S. Oliver is faced with the challenging task of producing and perfecting next year's block scheduling. Mr. Oliver has shown what is needed to make this alternative type of teaching a success to both the student body and the faculty. Students at New Bedford High are willing to work together with the faculty to make this year and the following a success.

In college, Mr. Oliver majored in Math and minored in education, knowing that this was the road he wished to take. Mr. Oliver has been in the New Bedford System for twenty-one years. He began his career as a math teacher at New Bedford High School. After 10 years in the Math Department, he was chosen as Vice-Principal at Normandin Jr. High, where his leadership and communication with the faculty and student body gave him the reputation to rise to the top of the administration. Five years ago, he brought his leadership to NBHS as assistant headmaster under the direction of Mr. Michael Longo, who is now serving as assistant superintendent of Secondary Schools.

Mr. Oliver is not only the headmaster of NBHS, but also a racquetball player. To relax after a hard day's work, Mr. Oliver hits the racquetball courts where he reigns in triumph. Mr. Oliver is known for never losing to a student at NBHS and he doesn't plan on losing anytime soon.

With all the changes in the School Department concerning block scheduling, Mr. Oliver remains dedicated to his top priority, the education of the students. Mr. Oliver believes that through hard work and by setting goals, good things will happen.

Assistant Headmaster

Working for Positive Change

Ms. Beverly A. Bizzarro, a former English teacher, and Dean of Students for thirteen years, is now serving her second year as Assistant Headmaster of New Bedford High School.

As a graduate of Bridgewater State College, she came to New Bedford High as an English teacher. She was later appointed to the Dean of Students position for thirteen years until one year ago when she became Assistant Headmaster.

Ms. Bizzarro is occupied this year with arranging the new schedule for block scheduling coming in the fall of 1997. She feels that the changes will be "positive if done correctly." "It will benefit the student body by opening up more opportunities and especially more courses." Presently much time is being spent by the administration to perfect the alternative method of teaching. Ms. Bizzarro feels that for this to be a complete success, the student body, faculty, and administration have to keep a positive outlook for the future.

Outside of NBHS, Ms. Bizzarro collects Department 56 villages, Christmas villages with interior lights. She has over 100 and is presently the President of an organization dealing with these collectibles.

Ms. Bizzarro wishes the senior class of 1997 the best of luck and says, "Seniors have to accept responsibilities for the world they are entering; they need to educate themselves about people and community; they must learn by doing."

We, the Class of 1997, give Ms. Bizzarro a hats off salute for her hard work, dedication, and faith in us.

Blazing New Trails

Organization and dedication are the trademarks of a great Dean. Ms. Rhoda Purcell has all of the qualifications. At times, the Dean's office was a zoo, with each new Senior activity Ms. Purcell kept it all in stride and the Senior class owes much of their success to all of her hard work. She has guided us with her inspirational words of wisdom and love of her job and others. She is truly a role model for all she comes in contact with. Ms. Purcell tries to impact the lives of her students in any positive way that she possibly can. This is the prime reason she chose her profession.

As a high school student, Ms. Purcell already knew that she wanted to be an educator. Even under her yearbook picture she said that she "hopes to be a teacher." She knew she also wanted to work with teenagers in the educational area. She felt that she would have the greatest impact at this age level. She was very impressed with the teachers that had influenced her. Powerful teachers, such as Ms. Hassey and Ms. Bizarro, steered her in the teaching direction. Ms. Purcell majored in history in college, got her masters in guidance, and went on to get certified as a supervisor and director. She taught history for fourteen years and became extremely involved in school clubs and activities. She became a guidance counselor, which allowed her to interact with students on a more personal level. Ms. Purcell did a wonderful job in her ten years as a guidance counselor and built friendships with her students, whom will never forget her and the impact she had on their lives.

Ms. Purcell carried her experience with her as she moved into her new position as dean. She dedicates herself fully to her work while also doing a wonderful job as a mother and mentor. In her limited spare time she enjoys skiing, rollerblading, and spending time with her family. Ms. Purcell reminds this year's graduating class that they have come from the finest high school in the county and have been well-prepared for the responsibilities that lie ahead. So, "go out and set a trail ablaze!"

Ms. Rhoda Purcell — Dean of Students

Ms. Belli & Mr. Dooley: Advisors Extraordinaire

The Class of 1997 has been truly privileged to have guidance counselors, Ms. Judith Belli and Mr. John Dooley, guiding us every step of the last four years as our class advisors. They have given this class their hearts and souls, putting class concerns and issues first in their always busy schedules. They have watched us grow from shy, awkward freshmen, helping us and guiding our development into confident, mature seniors.

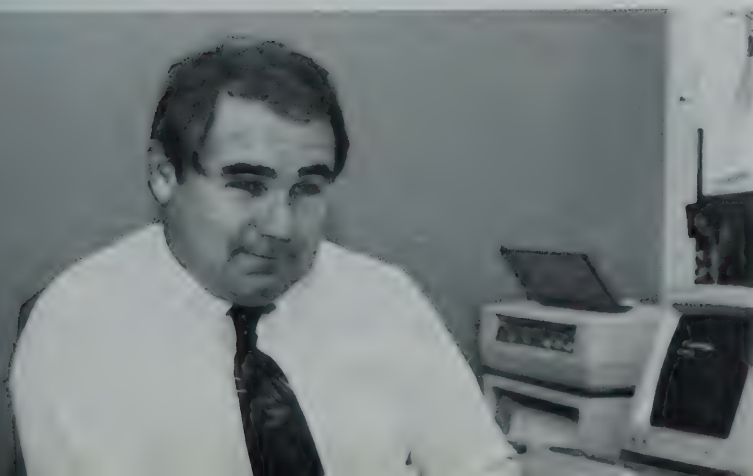

The Senior class officers praise Ms. Belli and Mr. Dooley for their boundless enthusiasm and infinite patience. "They never lose it with us, even when we goof and things go wrong," stated class secretary, Wendy Brassard. As guidance counselors as well as class advisors they offer the Seniors a sense of balance, providing perspective on what is truly important.

Our dedicated advisors also have very full lives away from our hallowed halls. Ms. Belli is the full time State Commissioner of ASA Softball and is devoted to her family. Mr. Dooley is an official for football and basketball for local high schools and is the proud father and chauffeur of three children.

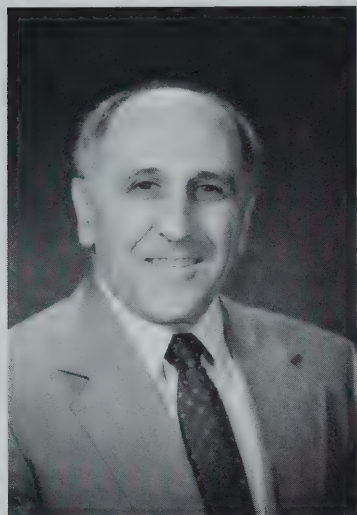

Both advisors are graduates of UMASS Dartmouth and received their masters in guidance from Bridgewater State College. Their mutual love of and concern for the welfare of teens, combined with their commitment, organization, and genuine willingness to listen place them among the stars in our esteem. Ms. Belli summed up this dynamic duos' parting thoughts for the graduating class, saying, "Go as far as you can see, and when you get there you can always see further."

"Go out and set a trail ablaze!"

Mrs. Baptiste: Making a Positive Impact

Mrs. Kathy Baptiste is a very inspirational teacher here at New Bedford High School. She teaches her math classes with much energy and enthusiasm, and creates an atmosphere in which students want to participate and get involved.

At a relatively young age Mrs. Baptiste knew that she wanted to become a teacher because she used to love to "play school." Her father was a self-made businessman who had a tremendous influence on her life; he greatly encouraged her to pursue a career in the field of mathematics. Mrs. Baptiste graduated from Rhode Island College and has been teaching mathematics for 19 years. She truly enjoys her profession and loves the student/teacher relationships that she has established — "They keep me young and on my toes!"

Mrs. Baptiste believes in encouraging her students to be the best that they can be — morally, ethically, academically, and athletically. She has a very unique teaching method, which is widely known throughout the student body. She incorporates "positive quotes" and stories into her daily lesson plans to give her the opportunity to discuss moral issues with her students, not just mathematics. Mrs. Baptiste uses as a device to help her students develop the positive attitude of never giving up. Mrs. Baptiste feels most rewarded when a student of hers succeeds in life. "I know that I've had a positive influence on them when a student of mine is successful in life."

Mrs. Baptiste's advice to the graduating seniors is to make the most of their college education and work experience, and to always try to do the right thing in all aspects of their lives.

Mrs. Baptiste believes education & maintaining moral righteousness are the keys to the future.

Mr. Kelly: Underscoring the Importance of Learning

Mr. Kelly has been an enthusiastic & experienced teacher at New Bedford High School for the past 28 years. He is known as an expert in instructing English. He became interested in teaching when influential teachers gave him his love for literature. Mr. Kelly's top priorities for his students are to teach them the necessity to learn and motivate them to do so. He brings out the best in every student.

Mr. Kelly is known for his endearing comments and sense of humor. He tries to get along with everyone. In his spare time, Mr. Kelly enjoys camping, gardening, hiking, sports & computers. He believes the most rewarding aspects of teaching is when "difficult students change and come back to thank you for the effect you had on their lives."

Mr. Kelly is willing to try out block scheduling next year. Although the period will be doubled, time isn't, so he can't ask his students to do extra reading that he won't have time to correct. He is looking forward to doing more in depth projects and group work. He feels there will be an increase in technology in the classrooms and he looks forward to it.

Mr. Kelly hopes his graduating seniors will learn the importance of learning and wishes them luck in all of their future endeavors.

Enthusiasm and experience serve Mr. Kelly well in the classroom.

Mr. Motta: Broadening Student Horizons

New Bedford High boasts one of the best faculties ever to teach a high school curriculum. They go beyond the expected assignment, to teach lessons of life and prepare us for the real world. If anyone has had the pleasure of meeting him, they will say without hesitation that Mr. Frank Motta is definitely a great example of this.

Mr. Motta has learned from 30 years of teaching experience, that the most effective method of learning is by example. He relates history to what his students understand. Anyone of his students will rave about his historical adaptations to baseball & sports. Mr. Motta goes beyond the limits of the text book to teach the lessons of life & pointers in gaining success. He strongly believes that "life is much like baseball, if you're not aggressive, you won't succeed."

Mr. Motta makes school fun, makes his students forget about their boredom and makes history interesting. He became interested in history as a student himself, he went on to get his masters in history at Providence College. Mr. Motta later went on to Suffolk University to study law and eventually found his path to New Bedford High School. Mr. Motta believes one of the most rewarding experiences of being a teacher is seeing one of your former students, and hear them reflect on what you taught them, and how much it has had a positive impact on their lives. "Happiness is the key to your future. Be yourself, be content, be happy."

provide a key to success.

Although the yearbook staff spends countless hours putting together the finished product you see before you, we are always aware the publication of this book could not have been possible without the support of those people featured in this section. The following pages are both a thank you and a salute to those who took the time to support us financially and emotionally in our quest to produce a successful yearbook. Thanks to all whose generosity provided a key to our success.

Somebody helped a friend in need;
Somebody sang a beautiful song;

Sby, you are that somebody.

SOCCKER '97

The Soccer Boosters Club is definitely the best & most supportive one around. Along w/Coach Magalhaes & Coach Gill, they have made the NBHS soccer program something to be proud of. As Seniors we have made friendships & memories that will never be forgotten. I'm sure we'll never forget muddy, Sunday morning practices, doughnuts & orange juice, hiking up to Brooks, Coach Gill's motivating & inspiring half-time chats (PLAY HUFF!), Mr. Malgalhaes' jeans, Coach Duarte (aka Shaggy), Mama Lou, Sherry's shaving, Beth & Kristen's pep talks, Erica's pigtails, bushy brows, & of course our great Portuguese banquets. Many of us have come through the program, playing 3, maybe 4 yrs., & we've come to love the program, the people responsible for making it so great, & the game of SOCCER!

Thank you Coach Gill, Magalhaes, & Boosters' Club for making Girl's Soccer so wonderful & adding so much fun to our high school years!

We love you!

No Doubt!

In local news, New Bedford's Historic District received official status as a National Park after a long, hard road to Washington, spearheaded by W.H.A.L.E. and individuals like Arthur and Jean Bennett, New Bedford's Man and Woman of the Year. NB continued in the national spotlight when our Whaler Marching Band performed in President Clinton's Inaugural Parade. Senator Edward Kennedy visited NBHS to assist our fundraising efforts for the trip & to show is support for our achievement. NBHS also received a visit by Dr. Bernice King, the attorney/minister/author/daughter of the late Dr. Martin Luther King. Other items of local interest . . . the needle exchange was voted down in NB by a 2 to 1 margin; the Wampanoag Indians withdrew their interest in the New Bedford Gold Course as the site of a future casino after 3 years of legislative limbo; Senator John Kerry was reelected over Governor William Weld; former MA senator Paul Tsongas passed away from complications after a long batter with cancer — he was 56.

On the National front, this has been a year of trials and tribulations for the country . . . the weather extremes of cold, flood, fire, and mudslides in the west and mid-west . . . the bombing of Olympic Park that shook the world . . . the flight 800 crash . . . the burning of the southern churches by extremists . . . the plane crash over Bosnia that took the life of Secretary of Commerce Ron Brown . . . A year of scandals . . . the railroading of Richard Jewell for the Olympic Park bombing & the embarrassment of the FBI & the press upon learning they were WRONG . . . the sexual assault accusations against Dallas Cowboys Michael Erwin & Eric Williams which were FALSE . . . the Jenny Jones talkshow that so humiliated a man that he resorted to murdering the man who brought him on the show as his "secret crush" . . . the sexual harassment charges pending against President Clinton by Paula Corbin Jones . . . the ethics charges against House Speaker Newt Gingrich . . . the finding of O.J. Simpson liable in the Civil trial & the award of custody of his children in family court . . . the Oakland, CA school district's efforts to have EBONICS declared an official language, the violent murder of 6 yr. old JonBenet Ramsey . . . the roadside slaying of Ennis Cosby, son of entertainer Bill Cosby . . . the murder of Tupac Shakur . . . and the controversy sparked by the death of 7 yr. old pilot Jessica Dubroff in an untimely plane crash.

In the world of sports, Atlanta was host to the Summer Olympic games, where outstanding performances were turned in by the US Women's Gymnastics, Men's & Women's Swim, & Men's & Women's Basketball teams. Mike Johnson was declared the World's fastest human, Dan O'Brian achieved pentathlon gold, & Carl Lewis won his 9th Olympic Medal. Other sports highlights . . . the New York Yankees won the World Series . . . the Chicago Bulls netted a 4th NBA Championship . . . Boston Bruins star Cam Neely was forced to hang up his skates due to career-ending knee injuries . . . Tiger Woods took the golf world by storm . . . and our own New England Patriots made it to the Superbowl where they battled the gridiron greats, the Green Bay Packers, losing the game 21-35 but gaining the respect of football fans everywhere.

Arts/Entertainment & Enquiring Minds Want to Know highlights include: the marriage of John F. Kennedy Jr . . . the birth of children to Madonna, Nancy Kerrigan & Pamela Anderson Lee . . . the divorce of Michael Jackson & Lisa Marie Presley, the marriage of Michael & Debbie Rowe & the impending birth of their son . . . the passing away of George Burns, Ella Fitzgerald, Dr. Timothy Leary, Carl Sagan, Margeaux Hemingway, Minnie Pearl & Tiny Tim . . . the blockbuster movies Twister, Eraser, Independence Day, Ransom, Fear, Scream, 101 Dalmations, Mission Impossible, Jerry Maguire, & Beavis & Butthead Do America . . . the TV hits which include Seinfeld, Savannah, Suddenly Susan, Cosby, Frasier, NYPD Blue, Homicide, The Real World, Road Rules, 3rd Rock from the Sun & The X-files . . . rising stars on the music scene The Fugees, Diswalla, No Doubt, Toni Braxton, Alanis Morissette, Smashing Pumpkins join the favorites that have withstood the test of time (The Beatles, The Doors, Nirvana, R.E.M., Metallica, Big Daddy Kane, etc.)

The year in review reflects the joys & sorrows of the world. Some of these have impacted our lives more than others, & those, combined with our own personal experiences, will comprise our memories of our graduation year, 1997.
